Introduction

To promote Positive Behavior Support (PBS) in the Asia Pacific Region, National Taiwan Normal University (NTNU) in collaboration with colleagues from the U.S., Canada, and Japan, has formed a consortium to share research, practice, and training in the Asia Pacific community. In 2021, NTNU will host the 3rd Asia-Pacific International Conference on Positive Behavior Support. We cordially invite researchers, practitioners, teachers, and parents from throughout the region to share your research and practice at the conference.

Conference Outline

We are pleased to announce the 3rd Asia-Pacific International Conference on Positive Behavior Support (AAPBS) on September 17 to 18, 2021. The APPBS will be a hybrid event. International participants will attend the conference virtually and local participants will meet in-person at Taipei. There are several important points and dates that we would like to bring to your attention.

Keynote Speakers

George Sugai, Ph. D. is Emeritus Professor in the Neag School of Education at the University of Connecticut. In 2019 he retired as Carole J. Neag Endowed Chair and Professor with tenure in School of Education at University of Connecticut. His professional interests included school-wide positive behavior support, classroom and behavior management, and school discipline, and organizational management. He has been a classroom teacher, program director, personnel preparer, and applied researcher. Currently, he is senior advisor for the OSEP Center on Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (www.pbis.org).

Catherine Bradshaw, Ph. D. is a Professor and the Associate Dean for Research and Faculty Development at the Curry School of Education at the University of Virginia. Her research interests focus on the development of aggressive behavior, prevention and intervention, child mental health, and program development and evaluation. She is an expert in implementation science and coaching models. She was previously the Associate Editor for the Journal of Research on Adolescence and is currently the editor of Prevention Science.

Call for Papers

The conference requests submission of one of three types of proposals:

- Oral presentations
 - Symposium sessions
 - Interactive poster sessions
- Oral presentation sessions are 45 minutes in length. The lead presenter can submit individually or with co-presenters a proposal focused on one topic for the entire oral presentation.
 - Symposium sessions are 90 minutes in length. Three research papers related to a theme or topic are presented and be limited to 20 minutes. Additional time would be allowed for the discussant and for questions from the audience.
 - Interactive poster sessions are 90 minutes in length. The presenter will be expected to be present during the entire poster session, and to interact with and answer questions from conference attendees who show an interest in the poster.

All proposals should be submitted electronically and will be reviewed by the conference committee. Proposals should indicate the preferred type; however, the conference committee reserves the right to change the requested session type in order to create a balanced and integrated program.
